Guests will first jet off to Mexico City for a three-night stay to explore its neighborhoods, landmarks (such as the floating gardens of Xochimilco and the Basilica of Our Lady of Guadalupe), and beautiful architecture. Then, they will go to Hawaii and tour Honolulu and the Big Island in 48 hours. The air cruise continues in gorgeous Fiji for a Melanesian journey through its culture, customs, and picture-perfect landscapes.

“Our ‘2024 World Tour Special Edition Air Cruise’ is all about fostering exceptional moments for guests,” said Guy Bigiaoui, the president of Safrans du Monde, in a press release. “As passengers explore the incredible destinations and enjoy their customized itinerary, they are given the chance to discover a diversity of landscapes and civilizations across the world, all while receiving the highest standards of private aviation service while on board.”

That private aviation service happens on an Airbus A340 that will take guests on this journey of a lifetime. The plane’s cabin is equipped with all reclining seats transforming into lie-flat beds, and guests are treated to drinks and multi-course meals prepared by a private chef. And if that’s not enough, there’s even a bar on board offering a curated list of wines, Champagne, and cocktails.

All-inclusive air cruise rates start at €75,000 per person (approximately $82,000), but the itinerary can be tailored with two additional destinations (Paris and Rwanda) or other experiences. The rate also includes stays at some of the most luxurious hotels in the world, including the Four Seasons, St. Regis, Ritz-Carlton, Six Senses, and Fairmont.

This is not Safrans du Monde’s first air cruise.
